Dear participants

Thank you for presenting yourselves in our project. As we see from your posts, you are very active, positive and enthusiastic teenagers that like doing different things and are eager to learn something new.

So, this week we start from watching and discussing very unusual Centropa's fim "Return to Rivne: A Holocaust Story". Shelly Weiner and Raya Kizhnerman live in Greensboro, NC. But these two kindly grandmothers were born in Rivne—then in Poland, now in Ukraine. In 1941 20,000 Jews lived in Rivne, but when the German Wehrmacht and the Waffen SS stormed into town, they planned on murdering every Jew they could find. How Shelly and Raya survived the massacre is a story they tell themselves, not long after they visited Rivne in 2013.

Everything about this „How can you save the world” theme, in my mind, is something like using less electricity, recycling, planting and growing plants, but I think It's far more than that. Education. Education is the key to saving the World. It gets you to the position where the whole World can hear your voice, respect you and what you say and most important - to do as you tell.
